Explanation

The end-user tariff for Mogas 95 and Gasoil (U)LSD increases compared to the previous month mainly due to a higher purchase price. The price increases are a direct result of the war in the Middle East, which has significantly disrupted supply in the international fuel markets, especially for diesel. The price increase of Mogas is mitigated by the fact that purchases made in February will be used in April. This is not the case for diesel, which is aligned with the recent international price developments.
